1. Introduction

- 1.1 A strong base of Post-Doctoral research programs can help to increase the human capital supply and expertise that can effectively contribute towards Research and Innovation (R&I) investment - thereby, contributing towards the EU Headline Target of increasing R&I investment. Therefore, Post-Doctoral Programmes can help to contribute towards Malta's economic, social, environmental, and cultural development as well as to realize the potential of individuals and to provide new career perspectives.
- 1.2 Post Graduate Research also is linked to the ESF+ programme, as it can lead to the creation of opportunities, and the grant is an investment in human resources and skills. Post-doctoral research education is of central importance as it provides the means through which research activity may be engendered within Universities and Industry. It is also vital that the areas of note that have been selected by the country for future development based on past success are further enabled to provide Malta with needed, additional, development capacity.

2. Aims and Objectives

- 2.1 Post-Doctoral Research forms an increasingly important part of any country's economic and social agenda. Through this post graduate research, there will be more investment in human capital with a focus on emerging labour markets, including areas of green, digital, STEM, smart specialization and innovation and other sectors addressing the evolving development needs and challenges characterizing Maltese society, in line with Malta's national priorities.

The key objectives of the Post-Doctoral Grants are:

- Producing well-rounded, professional researchers who contribute to the advancement of their fields of knowledge internationally, using a variety of relevant skills.
- Promoting researcher development that engages in (two-way) knowledge transfer with various external stakeholders, including research organisations, employers, policy-makers, nongovernmental organisations, the media, and the wider public.
- Strengthening the research competence by building expertise in areas of strategic economic importance for Malta.
- Support will also be provided to address the evolving development needs and challenges characterising Maltese society, in line with Malta's national priorities.
- Increase the number of Post-Doctoral graduates to create a stronger knowledge base to better compete internationally; and
- Contribute towards research in identified areas of national and EU priorities.

This investment is concentrated to further strengthen the building of research communities in Malta with the aim to reap economic benefits derived through the effects of human resource development, R & I, and knowledge diffusion on technological innovation.

The Reach High II Scholars Programme which may be co-funded by the ESF+ 2021 – 2027, aims to address the above objectives.

The Tripartite Agreement will specify what rights belong to the researcher and to other parties including the Government of Malta.

With

Any intellectual property, including patents, directly arising from or derived from the research work funded by the Post-doctoral Research Grant and carried out by the Awardee shall be covered by an Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) agreement that acknowledges that the research work carried out, may be co-funded by the ESF+ 2021- 2027. Patents (where applicable) resulting from the research will also be co-owned by the Government of Malta. The ownership to such patents is equally shared between the government (50%) and the Post-Doctoral Researcher (50%). The Tripartite Agreement will specify what rights belong to the researcher and to other parties including the Government of Malta.

This Corrigendum is issued to reflect exactly the clause that is written in the Agreement between the Awardee and the Scholarships Unit.
